

Contents

Forewords	ix
Julie J. Kidd (President, Christian A. Johnson Endeavor Foundation)
Sally Engelhard Pingree (President, S. Engelhard Center)
Acknowledgments	xv
Introduction	1

PART I:
The Theoretical Arguments and Themes

3
Donald W. Harward

PART II:
The Issues, Rationale, Constraints, and Practices

1	A Copernican Moment: On the Revolutions in Higher Education	37
	David M. Scobey (The New School, New York)
2	The Ideals of the Liberal Artisan: Notes toward an Evolving Group Biography	51
	Catharine R. Stimpson (New York University)
3	The Theories, Contexts, and Multiple Pedagogies of Engaged Learning: What Succeeds and Why?	73
	Lynn E. Swaner (Consultant, Former Bringing Theory to Practice National Evaluator)

vi / Contents

4	Reuniting the Often Neglected Aims of Liberal Education: Student Well-Being and Psychosocial Development Dessa Bergen-Cico (Syracuse University, New York) and Joyce A. Bylander (Dickinson College, Pennsylvania)	91
5	Renewing the Civic Purpose of Liberal Education Barry N. Checkoway (University of Michigan School of Social Work), Richard Guarasci (Wagner College, New York), and Peter L. Levine (Tufts University, Massachusetts)	109
6	Evoking Wholeness: To Renew the Ideal of the Educated Person Theodore E. Long (Elizabethtown College, Pennsylvania)	125
7	Knowledge and Judgment in Practice as the Twin Aims of Learning William M. Sullivan (Wabash College, Indiana)	141
8	Assessment and Evaluative Studies as Change Agents in the Academy Ashley P. Finley (Bringing Theory to Practice and Association of American Colleges and Universities, Washington DC)	159
9	Fostering Faculty Leadership for Sustainable Change in the Academy Adrianna J. Kezar (University of Southern California) and Alice (Jill) N. Reich (Bates College, Maine)	173
10	Threshold Concepts of Teaching and Learning that Transform Faculty Practice (and the Limits of Individual Change) Kenneth R. Bain (Montclair State University, New Jersey) and Randall J. Bass (Georgetown University, Washington DC)	189
11	Financing Change: Priorities, Resources, and Community Involvement Kent John Chabotar (Guilford College, North Carolina)	209

PART III:
Implications Likely to Follow from Sustained Transformative Changes
223

12	International Perspectives on Liberal Education: An Assessment in Two Parts	225
----	--	-----

A: International Insights on the Essence of the Liberal Arts Richard A. Detweiler (The Great Lakes College Association, Michigan)	225
B: International Perspectives on Liberal Education: Polish Case Example Jerzy Axer (University of Warsaw, Poland)	239
13 Implications of Transformative Change in Higher Education for Secondary Education: A Dialogue Daniel Tad Roach (St. Andrews School, Delaware) and Michael V. McGill (Scarsdale Public Schools, New York)	253
14 Do Disciplines Change? Would Flipping the Curriculum Right-Side Up Lead to Change? Thomas Bender (New York University)	267
15 Liberal Education and the Policy Landscape Carol Geary Schneider (AAC&U) and Debra Humphreys (AAC&U)	281

PART IV:
Successful Models and Practices
303

Introduction to Case Studies Ashley P. Finley	305
Public Sphere Pedagogy: Connecting Student Work to Public Arenas—California State University, Chico Thia Wolf and William M. Loker	309
Engaging Faculty in Learning Communities: Lessons Learned—Dickinson College (Pennsylvania) Shalom D. Staub	313
Curriculum Infusion: Educating the Whole Student and Creating Campus Change—Georgetown University (Washington DC) Joan B. Riley and Mindy McWilliams	319
Attempting Organizational Transformational Learning from the Ground Up: Lessons Learned—Montclair State University (New Jersey) Valerie I. Sessa	325

viii / Contents

Implementation of Peer-Led Team Learning and a Leadership Initiative and Establishment of a New Faculty Track as Examples of Institutional Change—Morehouse College (Georgia) Jann H. Adams and John K. Haynes	331
Listening to the Agents of Pedagogical Change—St. Lawrence University (New York) Catherine A. Crosby-Currie and Christine Zimmerman	337
An Enduring Experiment—The Evergreen State College (Washington) Phyllis Lane and Elizabeth McHugh	343
Building the Capacity to Lead: Lessons Learned in the Evolution of the Leader Development System—United States Military Academy at West Point (New York) Bruce Keith	349
Building Institutional Capacity to Forge Civic Pathways—University of Nebraska, Lincoln Nancy D. Mitchell and Linda J. Major	355
Successful Models and Practices—Wagner College (New York) Devorah A. Lieberman and Cassia Freedland	361
Index	367
Contributor Biographies	387